

Caring for Residents on Dialysis: What You Need to Know Under F698

Upon completion of this course, you will be able to...

- Describe the basic purpose of dialysis, and identify common signs and symptoms of ESRD.
- Explain your role in supporting residents before, during, and after dialysis treatments, including monitoring for and reporting complications.
- Follow infection prevention practices based on CDC guidelines to protect residents receiving dialysis from infection and complications.
- Recognize and respond to dialysis-related emergencies and red flags, including access site issues, low blood pressure, and signs of infection.
- Understand the key points of CMS Regulation F698 and how they apply to your responsibilities in providing safe, person-centered care to residents receiving dialysis.

Want to see more?

Reach out to your Account Manager to learn more about this course and add it to your current training program.